Agenda for Promotions – A Celebration like Diwali During COVID-19 Pandemic

Personal promotions after attaining all essentials qualifications legally and morally are the rights of employees of any organisations. Timely promotions and incentives for working professionals not only energises the employees but also adds value in their work performance hence enhancing the productivity and efficiency of organisations. It is not exaggeration that the word ‘PROMOTION’ was completely missing from the dictionary of University of Delhi since last decade. In majority, teachers of the university and colleges are deprived of their legitimate rights of promotion. But unfortunately, the University was under dark clouds and under the administration having been full of negativity and superiority complex in their behavior and decision making resulted into the damage of the entire academic environment of the University. The culture of the academic, research and work environment of University of Delhi was completely destroyed and demolished by the suspended outgoing Vice Chancellor of University of Delhi and his tenure will be remembered for most unappeasable, inaction, untrusted, unformed and miserable.

I have many things to write about the working style of the most inefficient and unproductive outgoing Vice Chancellor, but it is not the place platform. However, you may agree my viewpoint that when Prof. PC Joshi took over the charge of the officiating Vice Chancellor, the lost VASANT AND HARIYALI in the campus of the University returned back as he completely revolutionized the entire functionality of the University and results are identifiable and can very well be seen in the public domain. As a teacher activist, I must appreciate and congratulate the entire team of current DU administration under the leadership of Prof. PC Joshi for tirelessly working day and night for the development of University and their employees without any favouritism and discrimination. I am happily recording the unbelievable but true epic story of promotions of teachers and non-teaching staff of the University and its constituent colleges. Under the faculty of arts by the time of publishing the first issue of WE, all the teachers of the departments got their promotions in a most dignified manner without reporting any rejections. The list of the teachers who got promoted in the various departments under the faculty of arts have been presented as under:
